We were raised by the sea – and it still inspires us every day.

Fair Harbor is on a mission to protect the places we all love. Motivated by this goal, we launched our sustainable coastal lifestyle brand in 2014 to honor our childhood beach community on Fire Island, NY. Today, we're a B Corp Certified brand creating high-quality apparel that helps you enjoy your favorite places while keeping them free from plastic.

How it Began

Our family spent every summer in Fair Harbor, a small beach community on Fire Island, NY, where we grew up swimming, surfing, fishing, and exploring the outdoors. Carefree sunny days spent with our family instilled a deep love and respect for the natural world. Those formative experiences from Fair Harbor made us who we are today.

Our Commitment To You and Our Planet

SUSTAINABILITY
Everything we design is sustainably made. We prioritize using the most earth-friendly, innovative fabrics and production processes available.

QUALITY
Our products must be functional and durable enough to withstand the tests of time.

COMFORT
Ease makes everything better, so we focus on the fit and fabrics of our apparel. We listen to customer feedback to constantly improve our product.

Our FH Community

Everyone has their version of Fair Harbor, and we want to inspire others to protect the places they love. Cleanups have always been a core initiative of ours. We hold community cleanups in local neighborhoods to bring people together and further spread our mission on an individual level.

We also partner with other like-minded organizations to educate and inspire the next generation of environmental activism. When we engage people with these events, it connects them to the impact of their everyday choices and hopefully inspires them to sustain the environment for the future.
